

Organs starts for Come, Thou Long Expected Jesus

Leader In Isaiah we read “The glory of Lebanon Shall Come unto you: The fir, the pine, and box together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary. The Christmas tree has been created to tell the story of Christ. A century after his birth, the flowers of Christ made monograms of the first three letters of his name in Greek. The word “Chrismon” is a compound of the words Christ and Monograms. Through the years, other Christian symbols have been added.

The colors are also symbolic. White represents our Lord’s purity and perfection: and the gold his majesty and glory. The lights symbolize our belief that Christ is the Light of the World. As the first star called the wise men away from their daily pursuits and led them to the holy family, Christmas lights call us away from the mundane, the difficult, the ordinary...Into the presence of the holy one himself.

Come , decorate the Christmas Trees as the band sings.
